

PIOTR JANISZEWSKI

FULL STACK DEVELOPER

Self Definition

I'm very well organized person with a lot of attention to details. My 7-year backlog in the design of electrical installations meant that I love to look up and create best and most effective solution.

Strength

My greatest strength is my curiosity and creativity. Combined with attention to detail, it results in the best performance and appearance for my projects.

Mentor Opinion

“Piotr is a hardworking and open-minded person. He has highly amplified analytic skills which he is using during programming. He is very professional when it comes to communication with the higher-ups and at the same time he is a great team player.”
